

It's about time

.. that I do send a little update.. after all this time. We have not put any news on, because we were busy organising the old things :) Tax, documentary (which will eventually appear on our little page here), Nima coming over to Germany, going through all the pictures and still having nothing in order :) .. - telling all the sponsors who had time and wanted to know about our little schoolbag event in Nepal .. Well, basically I have been busy with arriving back home. While we have not posted anything new, we still did stuff which had to be done. We are thinking of further little steps to improving things in the village, we are still looking for 10 Euro Sponsors for 3 children in Hill and we are trying to deal with the news coming from Nepal. The monsoon has left big parts of the country fighting the floods, nobody talks about that while "Hurricane Irma".. has struck Florida. But again.. noone really talks about it .. not before, not after "Irma". So we just continue to remind people .. there is a extremely beautiful place out there .. with mega good people.. struggling EVERY DAY.. against all odds!!!! Any amount can help.. any time!
